VA HUDSON VALLEY

HEALTH CARE SYSTEM · CASTLE POINT · FDR MONTROSE

In 1996, two Veteran Administration Medical Centers (VAMCs) in Veterans Integrated Service Network (VISN) #3 consolidated their services. It was the first locally initiated integration of its kind. In March of 1997, Castle Point VAMC and Franklin Delano Roosevelt VA Hospital joined to become the VA Hudson Valley Health Care System, which now serves 28,000 Hudson Valley veterans annually.

Consisting of two main campuses and a host of community-based outpatient clinics, the VA Hudson Valley Health Care System is dedicated to providing a wide range of services including medical, psychiatric, and extended care. There are a number of VA Clinics in surrounding counties: Orange County (Goshen and Port Jervis), Sullivan County (Monticello), Rockland County (New City), Putnam County (Carmel), and Dutchess County (Poughkeepsie and Pine Plains). These clinics bring care closer to veterans in communities in which they live.

The VA Hudson Valley Health Care System is part of a larger network of care – VISN #3 – that includes VAMCs in Brooklyn, Bronx, East Orange, Lyons, Manhattan, and Northport. Together they represent a comprehensive health care system available to veterans throughout the NY/NJ area. A sharing relationship with Keller Army Hospital at West Point also provides veterans with enhanced services. Affiliations with many of the finest medical institutions provide an opportunity to be on the leading edge of medical research and the latest advancements in clinical care. Carrying on a tradition of excellence, the VA Hudson Valley Health Care System is proud to honor those who have served.

FDR MONTROSE

As the southern facility of the VA Hudson Valley Health Care System, Franklin Delano Roosevelt VA Campus is located in northern Westchester just 38 miles north of New York City. A former estate and original historic site of the mansion Boscobel or "Beautiful Woods," this medical facility boasts one of the largest community home care programs for veterans within the entire VA system. The programs follow veterans who live in community residences, providing a link to a full array of mental health and medical services available at both main campuses. FDR provides services for acute and chronic mental health and extended care to a large geriatric population. Three residential programs specialize in recovery from substance abuse, PTSD, and homelessness. Outpatient services include primary care, mental health clinics, dentistry, optometry, podiatry, and women's health clinics.

CASTLE POINT

The northern facility of the VA Hudson Valley Health Care System, Castle Point VA Campus, is located on the scenic banks of the Hudson River, just 65 miles north of New York City. It delivers modern, progressive health care services to our nation's veterans. A wide range of medical services, intermediate medicine, rehabilitation medicine, same-day surgery, primary care, and spinal cord injury care are provided at this facility. Various specialty care services as well as outpatient mental health services are also available.

NYS VETERANS HOME

Adjacent to the FDR Montrose campus, this 250-bed facility opened in the spring of 2001. It has enhanced services to area veterans. The New York State Veterans Home at Montrose is the fourth State Department nursing facility. Services are provided for vets who served in an era of conflict as defined by the State Department. Spouses and widow(ers) may also apply for admission under certain guidelines.
